VIRGIN EARTH

Virgin Earth was a balanced system designed to support vegetation and animals (which includes insects, reptiles, birds, mammals, etc.). It was not designed to support its present dominant population of homo sapien sapiens. There are many planets in the visible universe inhabited by advanced beings. Also, there are reportedly over two hundred parallel physical universes which are not visible from this universe. All of these creations are "planes". In other words, they are flat. This is how they would appear if you were viewing from outside the system. However, once you pierce the surface and enter the system, it appears to be three dimensional.

Many civilizations actively use both space travel and time travel and many have visited Earth and continue to do so. Responsible visitors know to avoid actions which would alter the natural conditions they encounter when they visit another planet. It is both common sense and respect for the Creation. If you understand the Creation and respect the will of the Creator, there are certain things you just do not do. This attitude is not motivated by fear of punishment but, rather, respect for the Creator and for His Creation. You are guests here. You do not own anything. This was the philosophy of the American Indians. Of course, we killed them because this philosophy conflicted with our concept of "ownership".

ORIGIN OF THE HOMO SAPIEN SAPIEN

Beings from many civilizations have visited Earth. Consider it similar to going on a camping trip. It is a new place. You set up camp, look around and enjoy yourself. However, when you leave, you clean up your mess. You make sure the fire is out. You do your best to leave the camp site just as pristine as it was before you came. It is common courtesy.

Long ago there was a group of explorers who reportedly [4] were called the Annunaki. They came to Earth looking for gold. The gold on Earth reportedly has special desirable qualities which distinguish it from gold found on other planets.

These beings did not want to do the "grunt" work of collecting the gold. Like most advanced species, they understood genetics and decided to manufacture slaves - synthetic organic constructs - to do the work for them. These constructs were the homo sapien sapiens.

Any advanced culture can do this. The United States and likely other countries manufacture "people" today. There is a US law prohibiting creating "artificial wombs". There would be no need for such a law unless you knew that it was possible to create an artificial womb and so wanted to keep others from doing so while you operated under the cloak of secrecy.

VIOLATIONS OF PROTOCOL

There are standards in Galactic Law for this. Manufactured living organic constructs must be supervised at all times by legitimate (this means creatures who have a Soul) organic creatures and they must be destroyed when no longer needed. Under no conditions are such creatures to be left alone and free to choose their own future course.

However, this protocol was not followed. After completing their mission, the visitors simply left the manufactured life forms on Earth.

The Christian Bible makes a clear distinction between the "Sons of God" (the visitors who were legitimate and had a Soul) and "the daughters of men" (who were the created entities). Created entities have no Soul. Only God can create a Soul, however, any advanced culture can create a Soulless organic construct.

To make things worse, the males of the visitors liked to have sex with the created females. The result were beings called "men of renown" who had a considerable amount of pure alien DNA and DNA carries memories. So, these were smart constructs but they had no Soul.

All of the created creatures were abandoned on the surface of the Earth which, previously, was inhabited only by plants and animals (insects, reptiles, birds, mammals, etc).

This is your origin.

Legitimate advanced creatures were already here but they lived underground and still do - "there were giants in the Earth at that time and also afterward..."

ANCIENT HISTORY

The history of Earth before the manufacture of the homo sapien sapien species is largely unknown. We do know that the planet was inhabited both by plants and animals and also by advanced beings - "there were giants in the Earth at that time...". We also know where some of the giants (the term apparently has no relationship to physical size) live. They live where they have always lived in underground areas. One entrance has been found in Antarctica which is why there is so much secrecy and mystery surrounding this area.

To get the complete history of Earth you would need to access the Akashic Records. These records record accurate history of everything. Students of mysticism and metaphysics learn how to access them, however, practice and discipline are required and most people are not concerned with such things and actually become hostile if confronted with the truth. Consequently, people adept in this follow a code of secrecy for their own protection.

RECENT HISTORY

Today's recorded history generally begins with Babylon. The "secrets" of Babylon (which may well have been common knowledge at the time) form the basis of essentially all "secret societies" which exist today. The Vatican archives contain the complete, uninterrupted, history of Earth from the time of Babylon until the present day. Of course, these records are secret and guarded and you can't see them.

Prior to the Babylon period, it appears that humanity - the created homo sapien sapien group - went through cycles of advancement and decay. It is almost as if some force kept "beating them back to the stone age" whenever they would advance to a certain level. Then, they would gradually climb back only to be again be returned to a primitive state. This process appears to be some type of control mechanism to prevent the Soulless homo sapien sapiens from advancing to a level where they would be capable of causing trouble for the legitimate residents of this galaxy and perhaps beyond. It was an alternative to simply killing them and was similar to the present practice of driving homeless people out of developed cities so rich people don't have to look at them.

The Earth visible today to the general public is based upon principle number 24 of the Rothchild world domination plan which was written before the United States existed and so has negatively influenced you for your entire life. Principle 24 states: "24. Fool, bemuse and corrupt the younger members of society by teaching them theories and principles we know to be false." What this means is that everything you have believed for your entire life is false. The truth is available, however, it is compartmentalized and based upon your security clearance level (if you have one) and what areas of "SCI" (Sensitive Compartmentalized Intelligence) and what "SAPs" (Special Access Projects) you are cleared to access. Without this, you know absolutely nothing about legitimate truth. You are living in a fairy tale.

Many other civilizations have existed in the past. Some, reportedly, were more advanced than our present civilization. Also, some, like Atlantis, were reportedly destroyed by the Galactic Police because they developed and used prohibited technologies.

HISTORY OF ALIEN INTERACTIONS

Aliens have always interacted with Earth. Many races have visited Earth and continue to do so. The great majority of these races have been mature, competent, and conformed to Galactic Law. The American Indians were constantly visited by people from other worlds. They called them the "sky people" and accepted them as friends. The sky people helped the American Indians and taught them their language. No one got frightened or upset when they would visit.

Ancient Indian and Tibetan texts describe "flying machines" which would occasionally appear. They even document "wars" between competing alien factions using advanced weapons.

Earth has passed through many "epochs" or discrete time periods. Civilizations have come and gone. Originally thought to be "mythology", today, due to technology such as Lidar, many of these lost civilizations have been located and imaged. Since they now exist below forests and other structures, it would be impractical to excavate most of them. However, their discovery proves that many ancient "myths" were, in fact, ancient reality.

Unfortunately, not all alien visitors have followed Galactic Law when they were visiting Earth.

RECENT ALIEN INTERACTIONS

In the present epoch, contact with aliens began around 1913. It is unlikely, at that time, that the potential advantages and disadvantages of developing relationships with aliens were fully understood. These issues were to be considered at a later date.

Reportedly, the original aliens brought "gifts" which were technology no one could understand at that time. These gifts reportedly ended up in the hands of what is today the Catholic Church and they still have them. However, now they do understand what the gifts actually are. Of course, they are not talking.

Various groups of aliens visited Earth. Of course, the general public was never told. The Pleiadians did their best to convince the leaders that they should abandon war and, instead, spend time on personal development. The generals rejected this believing that it was some trick to get them to disarm as some prelude to an alien invasion. It apparently did not occur to them that, if aliens really wanted to invade, their primitive technologies would be totally ineffective.

Other aliens - mainly the small greys (insectoids), the large (12 feet +) greys known as the Dracos and the Reptilians offered the military various types of offensive technology and they chose to align with them and signed "technology exchange" contracts with them.

They should have listened to the Pleiadians.

DECISION SEQUENCES ORIGINATING IN 1947

1947 was the year of the classic alien craft crash in Nevada [1]. The beings in the craft came to be called the "small greys". They are advanced insectoids. Decisions had to be made quickly because this was an unexpected game changer for the future of humans on Earth. First admitted and then quickly denied, the decision was taken to hide the existence of alien life from the general population of Earth essentially forever. People who learned the truth were killed. That policy remains in effect today.

However, in secret, scientists wanted to know all about these aliens and also to reverse engineer their craft. It now appears that all technology in use today with the single exception of vacuum tube technology was not invented by Earth scientists but, rather, was obtained by studying alien technology.

The 1947 crash was apparently a legitimate accident. They took the craft to Wright-Patterson Air Force base in Dayton, Ohio - the present site of a huge underground secret facility which actually stretches into adjacent states - and began to back engineer the craft. Then, someone got the bright idea to invite the small greys to come to Earth. They guessed (correctly) that they would understand binary code and began broadcasting "invitations". The small greys came and this was the first formal contract between the Earth and an alien civilization in the present era.

Seeking more and more technology, the Earth scientists accidentally learned that high energy radar transmissions could disrupt the electromagnetic drive systems used by many alien craft and cause them to crash. So, they started taking "pot shots" at anything that got close enough to hit and succeeded in deliberately crashing many ships - killing the occupants - and then stripping the ships looking for more advanced technology. The thought that this might be considered piracy apparently did not occur to them.

It also apparently did not occur to them that the attacked ship would immediately send a distress signal using scalar technology (which is independent of time and therefore instantaneous) detailing their location and identifying the planet which attacked them. Their home world would file a formal complaint with the Galactic Police.

If you are interested in scalar technology, please see the chapter on Scalar Physics in "The Covert Colonization of Our Solar System" [2].

1992 INTERVENTIONS

The United States and some other countries were merrily shooting down alien craft whenever they got in range. None of these craft were attacking Earth and likely had no intention of even stopping here. Apparently the thought that they could face some consequences for this simply did not occur to them. After all, they freely kidnapped people for all their MK Ultra experiments and Monarch brainwashing projects and got away scot free so why worry?

In the meantime, they had placed nuclear weapons in orbit about the Earth and also radar based attack weapons to shoot down any spacecraft in range. Nuclear weapons are prohibited under Galactic Law and so are devices to randomly attack non hostile spacecraft. So, [1], in 1992, the Galactic Police had finally had enough of the foolishness from the manufactured, Soulless Earth creatures and - in about three days - destroyed all the space based weapons and neutralized every nuclear weapon on Earth. All attempts to attack them failed and the Earth creatures finally realized that there were consequences for all the stunts they had been pulling. Of course, all this was kept a highly guarded secret. Actually, it is said [1] to be classified at a level called "Top Secret - Cosmic", which is supposed to be the highest level of secrecy. However, there are now no functional nuclear weapons on the planet Earth and any references to the existence of such weapons are "fake news". The truth is that Earth now has no defense against any attack from space.

Unfortunately, this is only the beginning because the Galactic Police will now investigate and fully prosecute to the fullest extent provided under Galactic Law. So, the time has finally come to "pay the piper".

Normally, complete destruction of a planet or entire species is not authorized. The authority to do such things requires SO-1 approval and few have that rating. However, you should know that, in this case, the Galactic Police have been given SO-1 approval to do whatever they feel is necessary.

GALACTIC LAW

Although the "lemmings" who live on this planet are content to believe that they are somehow "special" and that no other advanced life exists anywhere, none of this garbage is true. The only thing "special" about the "people" on Earth is that they have no Soul and therefore no legitimate guidance leading them to make random decisions based only on logic [artificial intelligence] without any regard for the consequences of their actions.

However, the truth is that the Universes are all occupied and that there are laws, enforced by the Galactic Police, which can result in some pretty serious consequences for violators. The basic law here is "Kal's Law" which covers this section of space. Kal dispenses "absolute justice". It is fair but you cannot escape your fate by any type of bribery, "plea bargaining", favoritism or any of the other nonsense used in courts on this planet.

The Galactic Police will decide what to do with this place and the Soulless homo sapien sapiens. You are powerless to resist whatever decisions they make.

However, in general, the guidelines are:

1. Unsupervised [orphan] manufactured life forms must be obliterated. Obliteration is not simply physical death. It also includes destruction of all your "subtle bodies" such as Astral and Mental. You will be erased from time as though you never existed. This penalty is called "AID" and applies to Soulless forms. Forms with Souls are processed under a different protocol.

2. The approximate 1% of homo Spain sapiens who have [probably accidentally] developed a relationship with a Soul will not be allowed to stay here or continue to use their present body since it is designed for slavery and not for ascension. The Souls will be judged based on their history as recorded in the Akashic Records. Less developed Souls will be allowed to reincarnate on a planet and in a form best suited to aiding their Spiritual Evolution. Advanced Souls who have chosen the "right hand path" will be incarnated on the appropriate density and form best suited to their continued progress. Souls who have chosen the "left hand path" but are considered potentially "redeemable" will reincarnate in an environment best suited for this purpose. Souls who have chosen the "left hand path" and who are not considered candidates for rehabilitation will be sentenced to Banishment from the Creation in a special sub dimension from which they cannot escape. The minimum sentence is one Great Cycle which is defined as the period from one Major Dissolution to the next. However, the sentence can be extended.

THE ZOO MODEL

The model we call the "zoo model" resembles the world Al Bielek claims to have visited in the year 2749 [3] and also the instructions on the Georgia Guidestone.

The Georgia Guidestone instructions are:

1. Maintain humanity under 500,000,000 in perpetual balance with nature.
[Reduce the "herd" to a manageable level and minimize its "footprint" on Earth]
2. Guide reproduction wisely — improving fitness and diversity.
[Probably a reference to genetic engineering and state controlled designer babies]
3. Unite humanity with a living new language.
[Likely includes converting to "humanism"]
4. Rule passion — faith — tradition — and all things with tempered reason.
[a quantum computer will be the future government]
5. Protect people and nations with fair laws and just courts.
6. Let all nations rule internally resolving external disputes in a world court.
[Nice idea but useless since there are no independent nations - a secret world government has existed for some time]
7. Avoid petty laws and useless officials.
8. Balance personal rights with social duties.
[General advice]
9. Prize truth — beauty — love — seeking harmony with the infinite.
[Nice idea but if you have no Soul you cannot even comprehend "the infinite"]
10. Be not a cancer on the earth — Leave room for nature — Leave room for nature.
[This section is a reference to the fact that only plants and animals have the right to be here. The Soulless homo sapien sapien has no legitimate right to exist.]

Bielek's future conforms to the Georgia Guidestone model. In practical reality, all the people in the world today could fit in Lake Pontchartrain adjacent to New Orleans, Louisiana and still have ample room to move about. So, the concept of the planet being overpopulated is false. However, the concept of the world being overpopulated with useless "people" who are not even "real" and don't have Souls is true. So, the zoo model seeks to confine these "things" so that they occupy the smallest possible footprint and are under strict control.

The Bielek model accomplishes this by reducing the population to 500 million and confining them to hi-tech "ghettoes" where they are provided with all the creature comforts they need but are kept away from most of the planet. That "most of the planet" is the rightful property of plants, birds, insects and animals. This model fulfills mainly condition number 1 of the Georgia Guidestone instructions.

The only practical excuse for using this model instead of just exterminating all homo sapien sapiens would be to provide a living example for visiting students from other worlds studying the equivalent of sociology or psychology to teach them the consequences of manufacturing living creatures and then abandoning them with no competent supervision. Soulless and "lost", these creatures see no viable future despite having free access to all needed creature comforts.

FINAL SOLUTIONS AND RE-TERAFORMING OPERATIONS

Now that the Galactic Police have actively intervened in the activities on Earth, they will determine the future of the planet.

All creatures who existed on Earth before the homo sapien sapien was manufactured will be exempt from any actions by the Galactic Police.

There are certain definite indicators of what future Earth will be. The main point to remember is that only plants and animals (insects, birds, reptiles and quadruped animals) have a natural right to exist on the surface of Earth. All of these creatures either operate under a group Soul or have individual Souls. Manufactured life forms such as the homo sapien sapiens have no Soul and therefore no right to exist.

Despite this, the plan to keep about 500 million of the homo sapien sapiens alive for study and research purposes appears to be the dominant choice. The remainder will be eliminated.

Unfortunately, the homo sapien sapien has - mainly through the acquisition of alien technology - has spread to other planets and also to other points in time. This infection cannot be allowed. Any homo sapien sapiens existing outside of their controlled reservation on Earth must be erased and any structures they have created off world must also be erased.

Additionally, certain entities from Earth have attacked other planets either by shooting down their spacecraft or using various types of created "wormhole" technologies to invade and steal technology and other artifacts. If any of these planets have requested that the offenders be extradited to face justice on the affected planet, those people will be delivered to the authorities on the planet they attacked and that planet is free to do anything they please with them. However, assuming they are alive when they are finished with them, they will be returned to Earth for obliteration.

This brings us to the problem of "re-terraforming". No other creature has damaged the natural structure of the Earth more than the homo sapien sapien. They literally destroy everything they touch. They ruin the air, water and physical environment. They murder numerous creatures - plants and animals - which have a natural right to be here. They show no respect for anything including themselves. The damage they have done must be reversed to return the Earth to its natural state. With the remaining homo sapien sapiens safely locked in their ghettos, the planet will gradually recover and the legitimate inhabitants will once again prosper.
