The Universe - which includes all the various Planes and densities - was created to provide an educational environment for young Souls. However, there are things inside the Creation which have no associated Soul. For want of a better word, you could call these things "props" - like on a movie set.

These things do not have Souls. Some form a support matrix with a positive nature. However others, which come into existence as the Creation naturally degrades from the Golden Age to the Kali Age (the present age) either serve no particular purpose or have definite negative affects.

Some, like "artificial intelligence" just seem to show up towards the end of the cycle. Others are created. Souls learn by "practicing". They have the power to create and also the free choice as to what they create. Just as a kid learns fire burns by putting his hand in the fire "to see what happens", more developed Souls produce more sophisticated creations simply because they are curious.

Although it is hoped that this trial and error process leads to positive development, this is not always the case. Because they have free choice, some Souls follow a negative path and others follow a positive path. Both groups essentially have the same knowledge, however they choose to use it differently.

It is not immediately obvious that Souls who choose the negative path will remain locked inside the Creation and will never be allowed to cross the barrier which would allow them to leave the created worlds and enter the pure Spiritual worlds.

As an illustration, you may enjoy reading the book "Tibet's Great Yogi Milarepa: A Biography from the Tibetan" by W.Y. Evans-Wentz. Milarepa began his training by becoming a master of the "left hand path". This gave him great riches and power - the things people covet in today's world. However, then he realized that there was a limit - a place he could not go. This place, of course, was the Spiritual Planes. Now that he had every possible material thing you could want, he became frustrated that there were places beyond his reach despite all his "powers". It was only then he learned that to enter the Spiritual Planes he would have to abandon all he had achieved and begin anew studying the "right hand path". He chose to do this and became a master of the "right hand path" before he died. No one has seen him since. Obviously, he was able to cross the barrier and leave the created worlds.

There is no other recorded record of someone accomplishing this in a single lifetime, hence the title "Tibet's Great Yogi". However, Milarepa likely lived in the previous age - the Copper Age - where the average life span is 1000 years. It is unlikely anyone could accomplish this today because life is just too short.

Now, among the things that beings with Souls can learn to create are organic constructs that outwardly appear to be people but have no Soul. These "created people", obviously, can never leave the limits of the created worlds. Unfortunately, like the classic stories of robots who believe they are human and freak out when they learn the truth, these created people are destined to share the same fate.

BASIC SITUATION OF THE SOULLESS CREATURES

Soulless organic constructs have all the capabilities of the equivalent natural construct except that they have no Soul. Souls are eternal but everything else is temporary and will eventually cease to exist. Souls are known to the Creator because they are His children. The Creator only recognizes Souls - nothing else. Unless you have a Soul, the Creator does not see you or even know that you exist.

However, during your temporary existence inside of the Creation, you have all the abilities of similar structures. All life forms have an Astral body and all life forms survive physical death and generally reincarnate. Even plants have an Astral body and you can prove this with the classic "phantom leaf experiment". In this experiment, you cut off part of a leaf but Kirlian photography, which creates hard images of things in the Astral density zone, shows that the leaf is complete. So people and other life forms whose physical body is damaged find, upon death, that they are complete. Plants exist on the Astral Planes just as they do here on the Physical Plane.

A soulless human construct can learn to do all the things that a natural human who has a Soul can. However, Soulless constructs cannot comprehend Spirituality. Sometimes, depending upon their development, this is not a problem but becomes a significant problem should they ever learn the truth.

Consequently, concerning the various attributes of the created worlds, soulless creatures are essentially equal to their counterparts who do have Souls. They can learn to master Astral forces such as witchcraft and develop significant "powers" which they can use in a positive or negative fashion. However, unless they are supervised - generally by the legitimate life forms who manufactured them - they can potentially cause serious problems.

However, if deliberately kept ignorant, they make excellent slaves and any advanced civilization is capable of creating such constructs if they so choose. For security purposes, unsupervised or "rogue" created organic constructs are prohibited and have no right to exist.

UPPER LIMIT FOR THE SOULLESS

Soulless creatures can potentially access all the densities within the Creation. This means that they can potentially access the higher levels of the Creation above the Causal Plane. However, with respect to the homo sapien sapien, it is rare to see them access anything above the Astral Planes. Even then, they tend to only advance to the lower Astral Planes. Seven Astral Planes have been identified and mapped.

Some soulless creatures may access the Mental Plane. The mental worlds are the final test for legitimate life forms who do have Souls. Here you will find the "seeds" of all possible constructs. To successfully pass this final test, the Soul must realize that no construct is actually "real". When you are "inside" of a construct, everything appears perfect and logical and you believe you have found "the truth". However, from the outside it becomes obvious that this is simply not the case and that no construct is superior to any other construct. All constructs are illusions - just as matter, energy, space and time are. On the lower Planes, creatures generally adopt some mental construct and use it to guide them and give some meaning to their existence. This is how they become "trapped". A legitimate master will teach you to learn to exist "in the moment" - seeing no past or future. In this state, you are free to ascend.

However, the soulless can never ascend beyond the limits of the Creation. Only Souls can do this. So, the soulless will "worship" some construct as the "absolute truth". It really does not matter which one since all are illusions. Soulless creatures never figure this out.

DEVELOPMENTAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR SOULLESS

Soulless creatures can develop essentially all attributes that equivalent creatures with Souls can. However, soulless creatures are temporary whereas Souls are immortal. Unfortunately, soulless creatures never quite figure this out. They truly believe - based upon whatever belief system they are "locked into" that hard work and effort will lead them to "salvation". This belief gives them comfort. Of course, it is not true. However, it is true for them and sustains them during their limited existence.

THE BELIEF SYSTEM TERRORIZES

For starts, please realize that the phrase "belief system territories" is not something we made up. It is standard nomenclature and you can look it up on the internet and read more about it if you wish.

Basically, the belief system territories refer to the location on one of the lower Astral Planes where conventional Earth religions "manufacture heaven". Of course it is a total fraud but their followers believe it which is all that really counts. Here is how it works:

When something physical is created here on Earth, a copy is automatically created somewhere in the Astral Planes. For example, an exact copy of the neighborhood where you grew up exists on some Astral Plane somewhere. If you can travel Astrally and you happen to find it, it will appear absolutely beautiful and clean. This is because the Astral Planes operate at a lower density and use a "finer" grade of matter.

So, when people invent a religion and build a physical headquarters (like the Vatican), they cause a duplicate of this to come into existence on one of the Astral Planes. All openly operating Earth religions do this and all the duplicates are roughly in the same place but are separated "horizontally" so that the occupants never meet. This is where Catholic "heaven" is. Other religions also have their "manufactured heavens" here. Baptism and other initiation rituals subconsciously program the disciple to go to this place when they die. Since they have likely never seen the Astral worlds - and since these worlds are naturally quite beautiful compared to the physical equivalent - they accept what they have been taught to believe and are convinced they are now in heaven. It's a great scam and has been used here on earth for centuries. The people who orchestrate these scams are collectively known as "The Priestcraft".

Unless you figure this out while you are physically alive and take active measures to neutralize your programming you will end up in one of these places. At that point, it will be too late to escape and you will eventually be forced to reincarnate. This process will repeat indefinitely unless you somehow "get smart" and take steps to escape. Remember, you must break away while you are physically alive. Otherwise, you're screwed!

THE CATHOLIC INFLUENCE

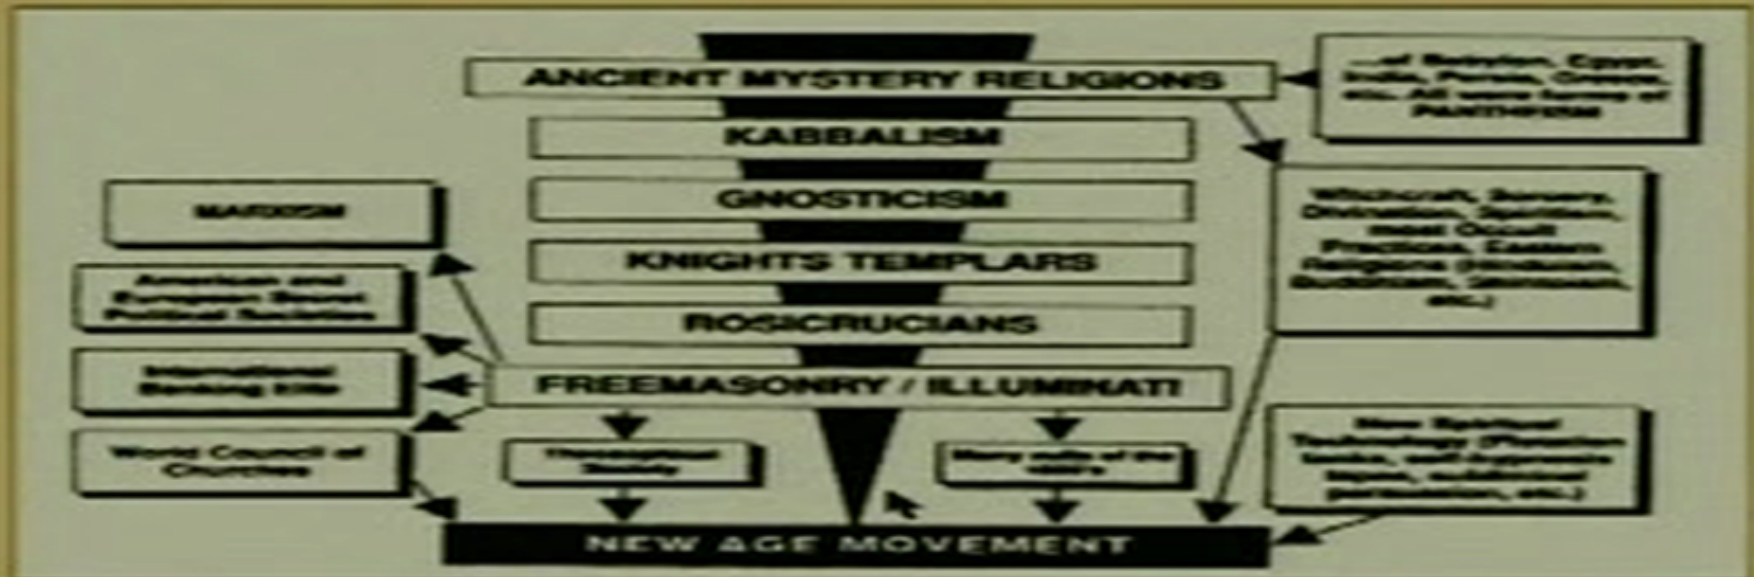

All major religions and belief groups (i.e., groups that do not claim to be religions) were manufactured by the Catholic Church. The Catholic Church is a continuation of the Roman Empire, hence the name "Roman Catholic Church". Recall the stated goal of the Roman Empire was total control of this world. The 25 point master plan for world domination was created for Mayer Rothschild by a Jesuit trained lawyer. Although the Pope is the official boss of this world, the Jesuits are considered to be above the Pope. We cover the master plan in detail in our book, "NWO Progress Notes" - free on our website 3108.info.

There are some excellent documentaries explaining the world control matrix by WalterVeith [1]. You should pay particular interest to episodes 211 (The Secret Behind Secret Societies) and 212 (Hidden Agendas).

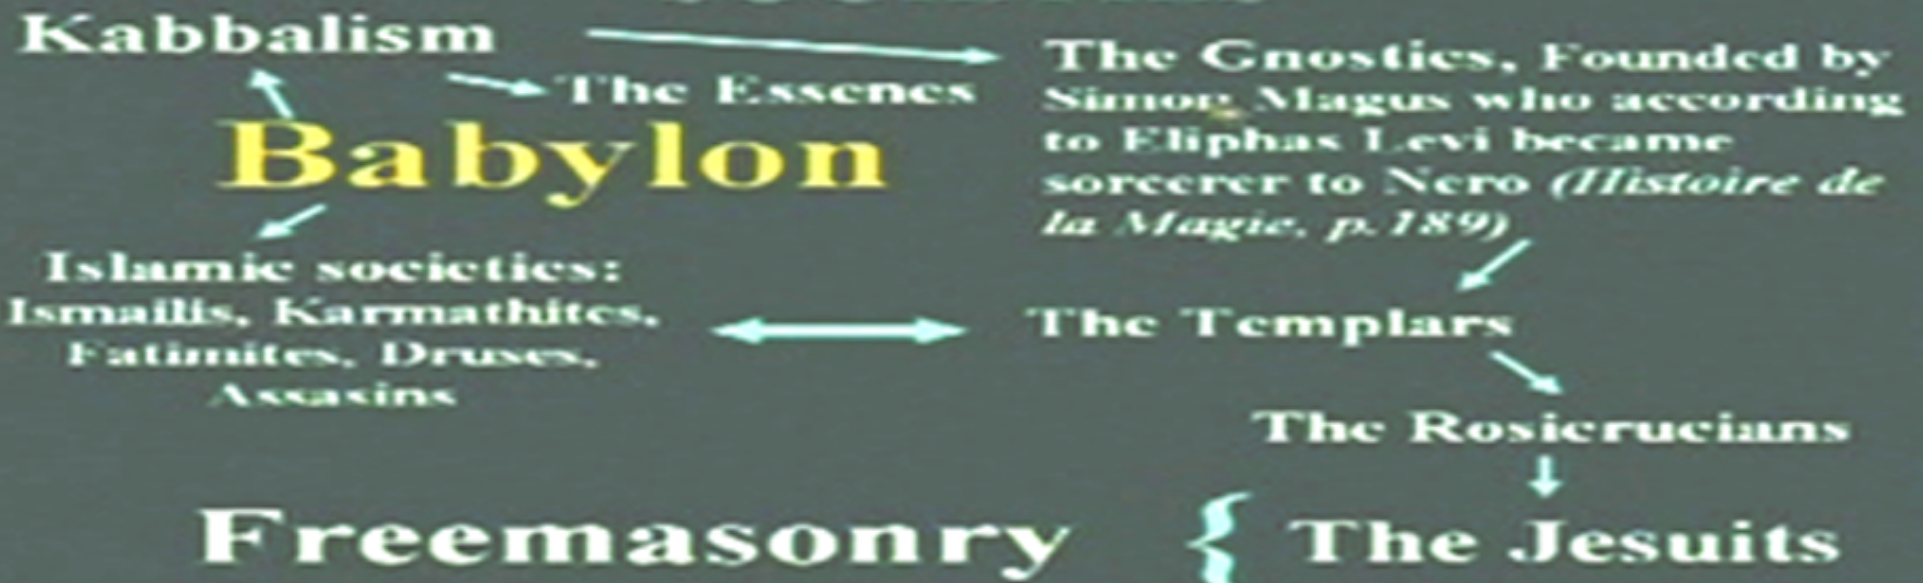

Here are some screen shots from these episodes which use charts to illustrate the structure of the world control matrix [L1].

HUMANISM

No one in the Catholic apparatus has any relationship with God. They worship Satan, practice black magic, routinely rape kids and anyone else they can get their hands on and hold secret human sacrifices in the basement of the Vatican. Their financial power is based upon ownership of real property. They are the largest private owner of real property in the world. Lord Rothchild claims a net worth of 3 trillion dollars but this is imaginary paper money as opposed to real property. They acquire property essentially for free by convincing followers that they will burn in hell if they do not leave all their possessions to the church. Of course, the "sheeple" obey.

The power of the Catholic Church comes from the mastery of black magic. Sex and Blood magic are the two main components of witchcraft rituals. Additionally, a key asset for a witch is their "guide". A guide is someone from Earth who has died and lives on the Astral Planes. Guides can provide information about the future and other data not readily available to the living. Catholic hierarchy keeps in touch with the "dead" people in its Catholic heaven and so has access to information they can use to "get an edge" on the ordinary people here on Earth. The various titles given to Catholic officials indicate their level of mastery of the Hermetic Arts. Kids are subjected to "conditioning" from an early age if they attend Catholic school. An example would be forcing young kids to kneel on a floor covered with rice and bottle caps (sharp side up) for extended periods. Later, in Catholic boarding school, they will be routinely raped by the Brothers.

Catholic "heaven" is located in the belief system territories on the lower Astral Planes. It has been identified and mapped by Astral travelers. Catholic initiation is a black magic ritual designed to program the young - unconsciously - to be drawn to this place when they die. Here they are treated the same as they were on Earth by the Catholic hierarchy and are eventually told they must "repent for their sins" by reincarnating back on Earth and it is arranged that they be born to Catholic parents so that their brainwashing will be refreshed and they will again return to Catholic heaven when they die.

Secret groups - specifically the Bohemian Grove group - are all male, meet annually in a protected area of the redwood forest in California, run around naked having butt sex with each other and also have human sacrifices. So here we see the two main components of witchcraft - sex and blood magic - freely practiced. Please remember that the men here are your world leaders, presidents, members of Congress, leaders in the military industrial complex, owners and controllers of all US media, CIA and NSA agents, etc. This is what they are really like and this is what is running your world. So, when world leaders say they know each other, they mean they really know each other!

The Catholic apparatus is a continuation of the Roman Empire which sought total conquest of the world. Only the name has changed. Today, establishment of the "new world order" is almost complete. The final step will be to bring the world into compliance with the Georgia Guidestone by killing everyone except a pre selected group of 500 million people. Extermination is proceeding on schedule as we speak using poison food (food additives), vaccines, poison air and water.

As you can see from the charts, the Jesuits - the intelligence division of the Catholic apparatus - are the creators of many groups (such as the Freemasons) and the members of these groups generally have no clue that they are pawns and unwitting operatives of the Catholic Church.

CLASSIC RELIGION

There are no legitimate Spiritual religions operating openly on Earth. All are Astral based and are linked to some place in the "belief system territories" of the Astral Plane which they believe is "heaven".

There are reports of legitimately Spiritual groups, however, they must maintain strict secrecy and never disclose their location for fear of being killed by the hoards of soulless homo sapien sapiens who regard them as a "threat" as they represent the truth that most can never realize.

The limited history of the past available to us indicates that all legitimate Spiritual figures who have come to this planet were eventually murdered. However, their disciples continue to disseminate their teachings.

It would be easier to learn to consciously access the Astral Planes and look for a true Ascended Master [SM-0] than to try to find a legitimate Spiritual teacher here on Earth. If you do this and have a Soul, there is a chance you could get special access to the classes taught by Ascended Masters on the higher Astral Planes. Should you accomplish this, you will be well on your way to liberation and probably not need to reincarnate here again.

HUMANISM

If you consult the diagrams presented above, you will note that "humanism" is the bottom level of the proposed world control matrix. The plan is to abolish all religions and replace them with a single religion called "humanism". However, this will likely not occur until the "new world order" is set up and most people have been killed, reducing the global population to 500 million in compliance with the Georgia Guidestone.

Humanism is not exactly a religion. It is a belief system which asserts that there is no God but that, even though people have no Spiritual future, it would be best to adopt "logic" as their "god", be nice to each other and stop having wars. Although this is obviously rubbish, it is nevertheless appropriate for a group of manufactured organic constructs who have no Soul. And, since this is what 98+% of the homo sapien sapiens are, it is appropriate for them.

Humanism exists today and many scientific atheists identify themselves as "Humanists". Maybe this gives them comfort as they wait for oblivion which will be their fate. Of course, they do not know this.

The model shown above requires that you first accept humanism before you are eligible to move up to the higher levels. Rising in the world control pyramid may give you temporary joy and comfort but, with no Soul, the only reward you are going to get in the end is non existence - permanent non existence.

TRANSHUMANISM TECHNOLOGIES

Transhumanism is the philosophy that the path forward for the advancement of human society is to interface with machines (computers) and eventually become machines themselves so that they can live physically forever and enjoy great health. It is a ridiculous philosophy which, if actually implemented, would end any hope of Spiritual progress and condemn humanity to permanent imprisonment here on Earth.

However, many intellectuals believe in this nonsense including, unfortunately, the Dalai Lama [3]. This fact immediately invalidates Buddhism as a legitimate Spiritual path and suggests that the Dalai Lama is not only not a Spiritual master but most likely does not even have a Soul. Although Buddhists are known to have many extraordinary abilities, these abilities can be accomplished by mental development and are not Spiritual. You can have no Soul and still train your mind to do incredible things. Even computers - like the the one used with the "Montauk Chair" - are capable of materializing things and this gadget is not even alive. It is just an advanced machine. So, you cannot assume that people with extraordinary mental powers have a Soul. Also, it is common knowledge - and has actually been used as the basis for a motion picture - that Buddhist "lamas" expect to reincarnate and there are tests to see if a new baby was previously a lama. Advanced Souls do not reincarnate. They continue to evolve - leave the Creation - and enter the Spiritual worlds. So, this fact in itself raises questions about Buddhism.

Now, considering that over 98% of earthlings do not have a Soul and so can never return to the Creator because they were manufactured and are not even recognized by the Creator as existing, you can see why these crazy ideas seem to make sense to the "human looking things" who live on the surface of this planet. Since they are already nothing more than "organic computers" who can never evolve beyond the Mental Worlds, why not go all the way and just become a computer. It makes sense to them, however, all this accomplishes is stagnation and will result in total obliteration at the next Minor Dissolution.

"STAR TREK" FUTURE IS UNREALIZABLE

Before - and especially after - the totally undisciplined tests of nuclear devices in the atmosphere which disrupted space time and endangered all advanced civilizations in the galaxy and perhaps beyond, Earth was identified and investigated. Now, everyone knows that the reckless creatures living on the planet's surface - known as homo sapien sapiens - are manufactured organic constructs and so have no Soul.

No advanced society wants anything to do with you and it is really a mystery as to why you were not destroyed long ago since you are of no practical use to anyone and are a threat to galactic security.

So, if "people" from Earth actually went into space "Star Trek" style expecting to be treated and welcomed as "equals" by legitimate civilizations whose inhabitants do have Souls, they are going to be in for a rude awakening assuming they survive at all. You (Earthlings) are, for the most part, nothing but a bunch of empty "clay pots" or "paper bags" and - except for slave labor - are of no value to anyone.

LOOK AT THE NEW EARTH - SAME AS THE OLD EARTH

Fortunately, we have two excellent books [2] which describe Earth's secret exploits beyond this planet. The evidence suggests that nothing has changed in the construction of off world colonies. The elite keep the general population ignorant. The history taught to them is fictitious and has no relationship to reality. The same system of secrecy and compartmentalization used on Earth has been exported to the "new worlds". There is no suggestion that there are any plans to change the ways things are done here on Earth when new colonies are set up. Also, there is no intent to ever admit that there actually are off world colonies.

We know how things are done here. The primary objectives are colonization, conquest, enslavement and acquisition of desired assets at any cost. So, we can assume that the creatures from Earth - unless stopped - would seek to occupy other worlds - strip them of anything of value - and kill the general population if one existed just like they did to the Native Americans when they invaded and colonized what is today the United States.

Obviously, this cannot be allowed to happen. If they could, the Earth creatures would seek to enslave and dominate the entire galaxy and beyond - killing anything that resisted.

The last season (season 10) of the science fiction series "Stargate SG1" - actually made at the Cheyenne Mountain military complex (Crystal Palace) while the facility was decommissioned (it is now back in business) - illustrates the truth about classic religion and how beings with advanced psychic skills - claiming to be "gods" - can invade and take control of less developed civilizations. It also makes the point that these beings do not help you but actually help themselves because by worshiping them you allow them to drain your energy for their benefit. It is very important that you wake up and realize how this scam works because it is being used on you as we speak.

FINAL DESTINATION

For the soulless - which includes 98+% of the homo sapiens - your final destination is oblivion. Most of you will cease to exist during the next Minor Dissolution (which, incidentally, isn't that far away) because you have spent all your time bouncing back and forth between Earth and some location in the "belief system territories" of the Astral Plane which you have convinced yourself is "heaven". Both the Physical and Astral planes are erased (dissolved) in a Minor Dissolution and, unfortunately, so will you.

Some soulless creatures may reach the Mental worlds and so survive Minor Dissolutions. However, when the Major Dissolution comes, their existence will end. Only Souls survive a Major Dissolution. Everything else is erased. So, all you did was buy yourself some more "imaginary" time - but, now, time is up. Sorry.

Incidentally, the period from one Major Dissolution to the next is considered to be "one day" in the life of the Creator. It may seem incredibly long when you are "inside" the Creation where the created illusion known as "time" exists, but it does not appear so from the perspective of the legitimate Spiritual worlds which are permanent and not subject to creation and dissolution. A few of you will eventually get there.
