BRAIN DRAIN

"Brain Drain" was a phrase that became popular around the 1960's. It referred to the fact that people were disappearing unexpectedly. They would call their families to reassure them that nothing bad had happened and that they were okay but that they were not coming home. They were never seen again. Exactly where they were has never been answered. Obviously, people with certain skills were needed for something and these people had been chosen.

BRITISH HACKER

Gary Mckinnon, a British resident, managed to hack into US government computers using a simple dial-up connection [1]. He found a secret space fleet of ships. The ships had names which did not correspond to any known US military ship and the names were prefixed with "USSS". US ships use the prefix "USS" and it is assumed that the extra "S" stands for Space or Space Ship. The ships are described as cigar shaped. There was also a list of occupants but their names did not match any known military employees. There were notations concerning transfers of members between ships. Although the ships apparently originated from the United States, there was no indication that their home base was on the planet Earth.

When the CIA tracked Mckinnon down, they demanded that he be extradited to the US to be put on trial. However, the British government refused on medical grounds arguing that his treatment by US officials would likely result in the boy's death.

ISRAELI OFFICIAL

A prominent Israeli official, Haim Eshed [2] stated that he had direct knowledge that aliens existed and that some were living on Earth. He also described "galactic associations" of different alien groups. He stated President Trump had met with aliens and wanted to tell the people about their existence but the aliens asked Mr. Trump not to publicly reveal their existence.

These revelations may suggest the location of those who disappeared during the "brain drain" period and beyond. Possibly they are serving on one of those USSS ships Mckinnon found or some base on another planet in this or some other solar system.

EISENHOWER MET ALIENS

President Eisenhower allegedly met with aliens [3]. The aliens offered to provide him with advanced technology if he would agree to stop making nuclear weapons. Mr. Eisenhower refused because he believed he needed them to attack Russia some day. So, the aliens left. It was explained that such weapons are prohibited under Galactic Law because they produce an energy wave that disrupts space-time and can travel great distances from the source causing damage to other civilizations on other planets. You would think any reasonable person would understand this and comply with the regulations but Eisenhower refused.

Time passed and eventually the Galactic Police had enough. So, in 1992, the Galactic Police neutralized all nuclear weapons on Earth in about three days. Earth leaders were also warned that future production or use of these devices would be met with total destruction of the population and possibly the planet as well. Apparently they got the message this time because all the underground silos with missiles and the two guys with keys waiting for orders to bomb someone were shut down. The empty silos were sold for pennies on the dollar. Reportedly one became some type of underground condominium and another is said to be used as a school house for kids.

ACTIVITY ON MARS

Al Bielek describes his trips to Mars. This video seems to have disappeared, however the basic details were that he was with a team of explorers on Mars primarily looking for gold which they reportedly found. The group freely traveled from Earth to Mars using what is called a Jump Room. Basically, you walk through what appears to be a doorway and when you emerge you are on Mars (or some other distant location). No one sits on top of rockets to go anywhere. When you see this it is just for show. Ordinary people need to be convinced that this is the only way to leave the Earth so that they will accept and believe that they can never do so. Anyway, Bielek's team would call back to Earth for needed supplies which would be transported to them using the jump room. Also, they did not need to wait minutes for messages to reach Earth. Scalar technology [4] allows instant transmission between distant points.

ALIEN ACTIVITY ON EARTH

Aliens visit Earth and also live here and work with humans on various projects. They do not want to be known to ordinary people. However, governments know all about aliens and there is a catalog [5] of known aliens and their space ships. This catalog was said to have been obtained from Russia. NASA is said to also have its own catalog.

You will find internet references to secret bases where aliens work with humans on projects. Many of these reportedly involve genetic experiments. Abducted humans are never seen again.

MONTAUK

Montauk is located at the eastern end of Long Island New York. The best and possibly only source of information appears to be these books [6] by a person who actually worked at the facility.

If you visit this place today you will find a fenced in area of abandoned buildings. However, it is claimed that the underground area - which was the main area - is still active. The technology there is simply too good to just walk away from.

Aliens worked with humans at montauk. Those mentioned were the small greys (insectoids) and the reptilians. The greys absorb nourishment through their skin and also excrete through their skin. Consequently, they stink. The human staff would grab them and force them to take a bath. Otherwise, it was hard to get close to them because of the odor.

MONTAUK TECHNOLOGIES

The technologies in use at montauk were pretty incredible. Obviously, you would not abandon things like these so is a given that these developments have been refined over the years and are in use today.

Montauk had access to a regression machine obtained from aliens. The controls were labeled in an alien language with the english translation taped on top. A person placed in this device would be regressed to an earlier age - even to a small baby. The device was used on Al Bielek which explains his two lifetimes. Even though physically younger, the person retained previous memories.

The brain erasing device was used very frequently on people who had sensitive knowledge. The device had leads similar to an EKG machine which were attached to various parts of the body including the genitalia. When switched on it would remove selected memories. Bielek reports that the process was not permanent and the memories would return especially if the person was exposed to events similar to those which were "erased"

The Montauk Chair was an incredible device. It was assembled with the help of aliens. Originally, the best computer available was the IBM 360. The aliens said this device was too primitive and their computers could not interact with it. However, when the CRAY I and CRAY II systems became available, the alien systems could interact with them and create the montauk chair device. The chair itself was a very comfortable reclining chair. In order to use it you first needed to be psychic. Then you needed to attend special classes to learn how to think in computer language so you could communicate with the device. After mastering this you simply sat in the chair and imagined whatever you wanted and it would physically materialize. The supervisor liked to have a beer when he came to work so someone would use the chair to materialize one and have it ready. The chair, of course, produced many other things.

In order to do what the chair did it would have to interface with what is known as the Causal Plane. Accessing the Causal Plane allows a person to do legitimate magick. A true magician visualizes something on the Causal Plane and then "brings the vision down" to the Physical Plane where we live and the vision appears as a physical object. Real magicians are careful about how they use this ability because there is a cost in terms of karma. If you have ever watched one of these people you would have noticed they materialize small, insignificant items so as to create as little karma as possible. The Montauk Chair, as a mechanical device, did not appear to be affected by this issue.

Montauk was also the home of a time portal. With this device, you could physically travel in time - forward or backward - and return. Al Bielek explains [7] that the nature of time is completely understood and that time travel has become a routine event. In the early stages of development, the device was limited because it required lots of power. Therefore, only small things and young kids could be used. [8] Not all attempts were successful and kids were lost. However, when finally perfected, the device provided reliable transport. This was used, among other things, to go back in time and alter the present. One of these trips changed history to show that the North won the Civil War. Actually, the South won. People who were alive at that time and have since reincarnated who recall that previous lifetime all remember that the South won.

An extension of this technology was the ability to send people and equipment anywhere - other planets, other galaxies - anywhere. There was no type of receiving equipment at the destination. This was basically like the "Star Trek" transporter which does not need receiving equipment at the destination point. The difference is that this process has unlimited range. With this technology, if you found a planet somewhere similar to Earth, there would be no problem sending people and equipment to that planet and setting up an Earth colony there.

And remember, this is technology developed in the 1980's or possibly before.

THE MONTAUK BOYS

The montauk boys were young men who were abducted and taken to montauk to be programmed using a primitive form of Monarch Programming. The techniques used [9] were extremely brutal and many of the boys died. Those successfully programmed were released into society to carry out specific tasks when "activated". The boys had no memory of their programming until they were activated by some method such as a sequence of audio tones or a specific spoken phrase. Only boys could be used because girl's Auras have an opposite "spin". Blue eyed blond boors were considered the best candidates for programming.

Although considerably refined, Monarch Programming today uses the same basic concept. The victim is subjected to extreme trauma which causes their mind to "fracture". These fractures are called "alters" - short for "alternate personalities". Modern techniques are effective on males and females. The alters are each programmed with a new personality and then locked with a "key". When the victim hears the key, that alter is activated and the original personality is surprised. Monarch programming is used very extensively today. Also, programmed people are passed around from country to country since all major governments know about this and use it.

Using montauk time technology, Bielek explains how someone can be unknowingly programmed. Time travel technology is used to abduct the victim from his/her bed at night and transport them to the programming facility. It does not matter how long this process takes. When completed, the victim is sent back in time to their bed a second or so before they were taken. They awaken to a new day and continue their lives with no memory of what has happened.

SPECIAL ABILITIES

Special abilities such as psychic talents, remote viewing and the like are available to anyone. However governments, in order to maintain an advantage, do not want ordinary people to know about these things much less develop them. Besides simply not publicly discussing these things, active measures are also in use to inhibit ordinary people. One main method involves fluoride. Fluoride attacks the pineal gland which is the physical link to the Third Eye. So, it is deliberately added to the drinking water and other items such as toothpaste (sodium fluoride). Sodium fluoride is a deadly poison and you may have noticed the fine print warning on tubes of common toothpaste to call a poison control center if you accidentally swallow the stuff. There are many other subtle methods in use as well as direct intervention such as locking people with highly developed psychic abilities in mental institutions.

LOOK AROUND

What do you see. Poverty, sickness, suffering. You do not see the secret space force, the fleet of USSS space ships, the colonies on other planets or the restricted areas on this planet where the "special" people live and work. You don't see the network of underground bases or the network of underground trains which connect the underground bases.

What you do see is war. Lots of war - everywhere. If there is not active combat there is planning for future combat. Make more bombs, missiles, fighter jets and so on.

The situation seems strangely similar to the world described in George Orwell's classic "1984". When Winston opens the secret book he reads:

The war is not meant to be won.

It is meant to be continuous.

The essential act of modern warfare is the destruction of the produce of human labor.

A hierarchical society is only possible on the basis of poverty and ignorance.

In principle, the war effort is always planned to keep society on the brink of starvation.
The war is waged by the ruling group against its own subjects, and the object is not victory but to keep the very structure of society intact.

AGENDA 2030

Agenda 2030 is the plan to reduce the human population of the Earth to five hundred million by the year 2030 [10]. It is said to have been secretly approved at the United Nations. Each country has been given a quota of how many humans they are allowed to keep alive. According to Al Bielek, the quota for the US is twenty million. These pre-selected people have been given a "ticket" which represents permission to live beyond 2030.

Agenda 2030 is not a conspiracy theory. It is a conspiracy fact. Using a combination of a designer virus enhanced with "gain of function" technology combined with a poison vaccine [11] which was known to be lethal before it was ever released, the governments of the world reportedly killed over two billion people. The people engineering this are called "globalists". Techniques such as threatening people with the loss of their jobs if they refused the poison shot are unprecedented. The globalists are disappointed because there are still six billion people alive who need to be exterminated before 2030. The pandemic scam is unlikely to work again, so some "Plan B" will need to be used.

Considering the relationships with alien races and the aliens presently living on Earth, the possibility that the aliens want to trim the human population to make space for a future alien occupation of the planet deserves consideration.
