"For we are opposed around the world by a monolithic and ruthless conspiracy that relies on covert means for expanding its sphere of influence--on infiltration instead of invasion, on subversion instead of elections, on intimidation instead of free choice, on guerrillas by night instead of armies by day. It is a system which has conscripted vast human and material resources into the building of a tightly knit, highly efficient machine that combines military, diplomatic, intelligence, economic, scientific and political operations.

Its preparations are concealed, not published. Its mistakes are buried not headlined. Its dissenters are silenced, not praised. No expenditure is questioned, no rumor is printed, no secret is revealed."

-President John F.Kennedy

THE STRUCTURE OF CONSPIRACY

Here we wish to discuss the basic conspiracy models. Essentially, they are all the same. The general model for all conspiracies looks like this:

The model consists of a negative core surrounded by an outer positive ring. This is the basic structure of all conspiracies. The people in the outer ring(s) are essentially well intended good people looking to help humanity. However, the inner circle is pure evil. Due to secrecy, the people in the outer ring(s) never suspect the true nature of the organization. The inner negative core gets its energy from the labor of those in the outer ring(s) who are naive and truly believe they are working for some worthy cause. Governments, mainstream churches, corporations, secret societies and cults as well as other similar intellectual constructs all use this basic model.

Now, let's illustrate this with a real life example. Below is one of the official logos of the US Republican Party:

Here you can clearly see a real life example of the basic model. In the center - the negative core - the stars are inverted indicating worship of Satan. However, the stars in the outer ring are upright indicating well meaning and generally good people who are being duped and truly believe they are helping humanity. The general public is totally ignorant of occult symbolism. Therefore, even though the truth is out there in plain sight, no one notices. However, anyone who has studied the occult, which would include all people initiated into any of the secret societies, would notice this immediately and know the meaning.

More complex conspiracies have a multi ring structure:

For example, this is Adam Weisaupt's original model for the Illuminati: [1] [L1] [19]

The model for the United States:

Is essentially the same thing diagrammed as a three dimensional figure. If you take this model and turn it 90 degrees, it will appear as a set of concentric squares with the "All Seeing Eye" at the center. This is, then, the same basic structure as the flat diagram using concentric circles. Each level of the pyramid represents one of the inner rings with each ring being progressively smaller than the outer ring.

Now that we have covered the basics, we wish to turn our attention to the secret structure of the United States and cover some of the key elements in more detail.

THE FIFTEEN YEAR PLAN

The United States operates on a fifteen year plan [3]. This plan specifies all major global events that will take place during the next fifteen years. People allowed to read the plan sign up for a fifteen year term of duty. Every fifteen years, the codes and code words are changed. At that point, people with knowledge of the plan may choose to leave or choose to remain active for another fifteen years. If they stay, they are given the new codes. Those who choose to leave do not get the new codes and so will be unable to understand coded messages imbedded, for example, in printed news stories. They are then free to peruse a "normal" life in the general population but, of course, are expected to never discuss what they previously knew.

THE WORLD CONTROLLERS

There are about 10,000 active "World Controllers". The number is deliberately kept at about 10,000. These people have complete knowledge of the fifteen year plan. Each of the 10,000 people is installed around the world in some key position such as corporate CEO's. All organizations, "public" and government, use the same basic conspiracy model we discussed previously. Although most people are ignorant, they must obey some sort of chain of command type structure. At the top of each chain is one of the 10,000 world controllers. Consequently, since these people make or approve final decisions, the entire world can be coordinated to methodically move forward in compliance with the fifteen year plan. From the outside, it appears many "independent" organizations are operating independently. However, they are, in reality, one huge world control apparatus.

The 10,000 world controllers know the plan but they did not create it. Reportedly, a group of about twelve men actually write the plan. Only a few of these men are from the US. Above this small group is a single man known as "The Chief of Military Intelligence" or, simply, as "The Chief" [4]. His identity - including the fact that he exists at all - is never revealed. The concept that the world should be run by a single dictator was popularized by John Ruskin [5], a British socialist. His philosophy appears to be active today.

Since the end of World War II, the United States has covertly replaced the leaders of all countries with puppets obedient to the US. The US is now in total control of the planet. Defective world leaders are killed and replaced as needed.

Whoever is installed as President of the US receives orders from this group. However, the President does not need to know who they are. He receives his orders from Monarch [9] slaves. The slave - under mind control - meets with the controllers. They have the codes to open one of her "alters". Then she is given instructions for the President and the alter is locked. She has no conscious knowledge of any of this but is subconsciously programmed to visit the President. The president has the code to unlock the alter and the slave recites the instructions like a human tape recorder. Then the alter is locked and the slave returns to her "cover life" and appears to be just an average person. The President must obey the instructions he receives without question. Disobedience can result in serious consequences.

Consequently, people like Ronald Reagan make ideal Presidents. With a lifetime background as an actor, he was trained to memorize his lines and play assigned roles. Reportedly partially senile, it is said that he actually believed the fiction movie "War Games" [6] was a documentary. He was considered a perfect model President and was rewarded with permission to continue to physically live forever. He was returned to a young man of about 20 and given a new identity.

We have discussed Monarch slaves [9] previously. However, to briefly recap, we know about these people mainly because of the books and you tube videos by Cathy O'Brien and Brice Taylor (Sue Ford). These women are the only publicly known people to have escaped from Monarch mind control and recovered the memories locked in their various "alters". They may be the last. Reportedly, therapists trained to deprogram mind control victims are unable to "unlock" Monarch slaves who have been programmed using the most recent techniques. The latest batch appear to be destined to remain "lost Souls" forever.

There is, additionally, a level of sub-controllers, generally recruited from the ranks of retired law enforcement personnel. These sub-controllers do not know the master plan. However, on assignments, they have significant authority. They carry special ID which prevents them from being detained by any law enforcement authority for any reason. They can carry a concealed weapon. If they need to go somewhere - anywhere - they can go to an airport and get a seat on a plane. If the plane is full, someone will be bumped off to accommodate them. They pay for nothing. If necessary, they have major credit cards registered to nonexistent corporations which they can use. The cards have no credit limit and are paid by the government. It can be a fun job if you are into more excitement after retiring from an ordinary police job.

Sometimes, you will find curious lyrics in a popular song which appear to make no sense. Consider, for example, the popular Simon and Garfunkel song "Sounds of Silence" from the 1960's [L1]:

"In the naked light I saw
Ten thousand people, maybe more
People talking without speaking
People hearing without listening"

For absolute secrecy, the ten thousand primary world controllers are reportedly trained to communicate telepathically. Also, consider that Simon and Garfunkel were both math majors in college. The government likes math majors to work on top secret projects. Of course, perhaps this is all simply a coincidence.

PLAYBOOKS

Two classic novels, written years ago as a warning against a potentially disastrous future have, instead, become essentially handbooks for designing our present world. The two books are "1984" by Orwell and "Brave New World" by Huxley.

We live in the equivalent of "1984" today and Huxley's "Brave New World" is on the horizon.

In Orwell's "1984" world, government agencies did the opposite of their official title. For example, the "Ministry of Peace" made war. In our world, for example, the Centers for Disease Control, which suggests something positive and constructive, actually plans pandemics and helps create new diseases as well as suppress cures for existing diseases to make sure the population stays sickly and debilitated. In "1984", the government drops bombs on its own people and then blames it on an imaginary enemy just like the US did when it deliberately demolished the World Trade Center buildings with a preplanned controlled demolition [18] and then used that as an excuse to attack other countries and set up a police state at home. The world of "1984" created a nonexistent imaginary enemy named "Goldstein". Then, people were accused of being "agents of Goldstein" and tortured. Today, we accuse almost anyone of being a "terrorist" - a term with no specific definition. People are told to suspect everyone. Your neighbor could be a "terrorist". You could be a "terrorist" and not even know it just like someone in the world of "1984" might be an "agent of Goldstein" and not realize it. The parallels are awesome!

However, "1984" did have one advantage. In the world of "1984" you only had to watch five minutes of hate per day. In our world, you are compelled to watch twenty-four hours of hate. If you can find a channel which is not showing hate and killing, the program will be interrupted by an ad for another program which does.

Other than this minor difference, everything from the world of "1984" is here plus new horrors that even Orwell could not imagine. Smart TV's have hidden cameras and microphones just like the "Telescreens" of "1984".

However, Orwell never guessed the "smart phones" which record everything you say and make a map of every place you go or the "smart electric meters" which secretly electronically search your house and report your daily activities.

Huxley's "Brave New World" is much closer than you may think. Already, new laws are requiring "unisex bathrooms" because you may not be sure of what sex you are from day to day. Girls in the US start having sex at about ten years old now and so are encouraged to get contraceptive implants just like the girls in "Brave New World". Designer "three parent babies" have already been approved in Britain and China wants to harvest all of a girl's eggs and then use some type of analysis to determine which egg would result in the most intelligent kid. Then, the girl would be allowed to carry the approved egg and give birth to the state approved baby.

The other "attributes" of Huxley's "Brave New World" are not that far away.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY WAS YOUR LAST CHANCE

There are many theories as to why Mr. Kennedy was killed. These generally cite some decision he made which upset some group. However, it is not possible to be a world leader and not "upset some group" because any decision you make will benefit some and adversely affect others. Briefly, we want to go over the real scenario which reportedly resulted in Mr. Kennedy's assassination.

Mr. Kennedy and Nikita Khrushchev were friends. Also, they both had experiences with LSD and so were aware of other realities. In a private meeting, they discussed how silly it was to deliberately antagonize the peoples of the world by continuing what came to be known as the "cold war". They agreed that this foolishness was a needless burden on humanity and should end. So, here you had two world leaders who had agreed that the status quo of unending war and/or the threat of war should end and the world should enter a new era of peace. This could have been a pivotal moment in world history.

Unfortunately, the fifteen year plan called for the cold war to continue. When the NSA learned what Kennedy and Khrushchev were planning, they immediately sent out a top secret memo certifying President Kennedy to be a "threat to the national security". This memo was seen by William Cooper [2] who was a secretary to a general at that time. He would later make it public through his books and radio program on an international shortwave radio station which could be received worldwide. Cooper continued to write and broadcast top secret information about the US until he was assassinated at his home by government agents on November 6, 2001.

The NSA memo apparently officially "legalized" the killing of President Kennedy and the logistical planning began immediately. The rest is history. Although the government went to great lengths to cover up what really happened - murdering thousands of people in the process - determined researchers have now uncovered every aspect of this event including all of the names of those involved.

So, to summarize, President Kennedy was killed because he planned to end war and have a peaceful world. If he had lived to accomplish this, the world of today would not exist. Instead, you would now have what every living creature desires and deserves: the right to live in peace and freedom. You will never see this. Mr. Kennedy was your last chance.

EXACTLY WHERE DID THE NSA COME FROM

We hear a lot about the NSA today. We know they spy on the world and everyone in it collecting phone calls, internet activities and any other "signal intelligence" (SIGINT) they can find. However, apparently few people are aware of just where the NSA came from. Calling it a government agency suggests that it was created by some democratic process. However, NSA whistleblowers who have appeared on RT [7] tell a different story. It seems that the NSA was secretly created by the US military and that people from different branches of the military took turns running the "agency". Employees were jokingly told NSA meant "No Such Agency".

It is a bit more ominous if you say "the military" is listening to my phone calls and "the military" is watching me on the internet and "the military" is tracking my daily movements. This suggests a scenario rather far removed from life in a "democratic" country. When you couple this with the new law (National Defense Authorization Act) which authorizes "the military" to secretly abduct any US citizen for any reason and hold them indefinitely at some secret location without any access to an attorney or any ability to contact anyone, it sure sounds like the country has become a military dictatorship.

It was bad enough when academics officially reclassified the US as an "oligarchy" and observable evidence of the cozy relationships between industry and the government suggested the US had become a fascist state, however "military dictatorship" - which places the US in the same category with some "banana republic" where a deranged dictator chops off your head at his pleasure - indicates a situation much more dire than anyone previously imagined.

UNENDING WAR

The concept of unending war as a way of life comes directly from the "1984" playbook. It states:

"The problem was how to keep the wheels of industry turning without increasing the real wealth of the world. Goods must be produced, but they must not be distributed. And in practice the only way of achieving this was by continuous warfare.

The essential act of war is destruction, not necessarily of human lives, but of the products of human labour. War is a way of shattering to pieces, or pouring into the stratosphere, or sinking in the depths of the sea, materials which might otherwise be used to make the masses too comfortable, and hence, in the long run, too intelligent."

- "1984" by George Orwell [L1]

Here we have a brief but concise description of the world of today. The United States is the biggest arms exporter in the world. So, the problem of "how to keep the wheels of industry turning without increasing the real wealth of the world" has now been solved by the so called "military - industrial complex". Their industry is booming. They are thrilled. But, the world is stagnant with constant war. And, to finance this war, of course, there must be "austerity" - a fancy word for deliberately created misery among the general population.

Therefore, by the constant threat of war and terror coupled with deliberately created shortages of essential necessities, you make sure that the masses are never comfortable and are therefore kept dummed down.

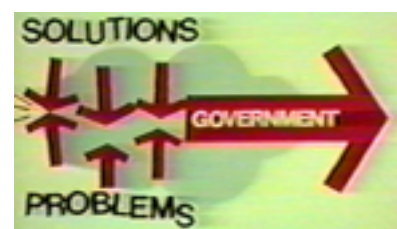

The Syria Example

Syria has some serious issues today. This example is from a previous time. Syria forbid the sale or possession of vacuum cleaners. And, it prohibited the sale of standard flat brooms. Only circular "witch type" brooms were permitted. Why? The stated reason was to make basic housework so complicated and time consuming that the women would stay busy and would not have any free time which could result in their minds contemplating "unproved thoughts". This is a true event.

To get closer to home, have you noticed that you have really no free time anymore. Complex social constructs keep you occupied during every waking moment. Your pay stays the same but your workload increases. There are things you would love to do but you just don't have the time. It may not have occurred to you, but this is by design. If you had free time, you too might begin to contemplate "unapproved thoughts" like "just what sort of government do we really live under?" Well, we certainly can't have that!

SLAVE MANAGEMENT

Below is the general model of how the government nudges its slaves in the desired direction. This model is called "pressure from above and pressure from below" [1] [L1]

First, you invent problems. Contemporary sample problems would be stuff like "terrorists are everywhere", "pandemics are coming", "criminals will get you", "North Korea has a bomb" and similar stuff. Now, you invent solutions which will increase government power and move the masses in the desired direction. You want the slaves to be so frightened that they will beg you to protect them. Then you can say, "well, you asked for it".

SLAVE MANAGEMENT TECHNIQUES

Stressing the Slave

Originally called "Efficiency Experts", this technique has expanded and become much more sophisticated. No corporate executive cares about the slaves he owns. And, make no mistake, he does own you if you are a typical minimum or low wage worker. You need to eat and he controls your access to food. So, your survival is in his hands and you must obey. Now, to the "stressing". Mc Donald's reportedly tells new employees that they will need to get a second job. That means working sixteen hours a day. Amazon makes their slaves wear an electronic bracelet that reports their every move to a computer. The computer decides if they get to keep their job or get fired. Wal Mart uses a private security company and the FBI to spy on their employees looking for "dissenters" so they can be eliminated. High unemployment is by design because desperate people will submit to almost anything to get food to eat. Absolute submission is their only choice.

Population Control

The government does not want you and does not need you. Most think tanks recommend killing 90% of the population. Henry Kissinger reportedly recommends killing 98%. Machines and robots will replace you.

Obviously, to kill people openly would stimulate some type of resistance. US citizens are armed and would likely resist if they knew about the secret plan commonly called "The Great Culling".

So, things must be accomplished more subtly. Radiation from cell phones is known to kill sperm (SEARCH: "rf radiation kills sperm"). When GMO soybeans were tested in Europe on hamsters, it was discovered that the hamsters became sterile by the third generation. GMO corn reportedly has a similar effect. (SEARCH: "gmo food causes sterility"). This means that women in the US - except, of course, for the aristocrat class which was tipped off not to consume GMO's - there will be no more babies after the third generation and most of the human population will cease to exist.

Monsanto, of course, knows this and so is reportedly trying to get a federal law passed which will make them immune to any legal claims concerning anything they may have done. This would be similar to the law which protects vaccine manufactures against lawsuits.

Agenda 21 Ghettos

There are plans for the approximate thirty million people who survive the "Great Culling". They are to be rounded up and confined to ghettos. Once in these "cities", they will not be able to leave without a special permit. This will be similar to the "internal passport" system used today in China. The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) will use its authority to confiscate essentially all of the land.

The aristocrats, of course, will be free to travel anywhere and won't need to be concerned about those disgusting, subhuman slaves getting in their way. So, all the pristine beaches and resort areas will be available for their exclusive use. The slaves in the ghettos won't even know they exist.

This is the plan for the "new world" under Agenda 21.

Slave Countries

The US uses the "citizens" of other countries to service their needs. Perhaps the best example is Guatemala where the general population has been held in slavery by the US based United Fruit Company for many years now and remains in a state of slavery to this day. The current state of affairs is covered in the documentary "Banana Land" [10]. For the previous history search using the phrase "Banana Wars".

Garbage Dump Countries

Other countries are used by the United States as garbage dumps [11]. Here, barefoot children wade through broken glass computer monitors and other hazardous waste hoping to find scraps they can sell to get some food to stay alive another day.

"THIS IS ALL A SETUP"

"People - when are you going to wake up? This is all a setup" - Jesse Ventura

Well, the answer to "When are you going to wake up" appears to be "never". So, let's look at why "This is all a setup":

Life for the Average Person Has Always Been a "Setup"

Before powerful governments, there was the "Priestcraft". They still hold considerable power today. Since they could read and write and the peasants could not, they could tell them anything they wanted to dream up and say stuff like "The Bible says so".

Actually, Jesus told people that Spiritual development was their personal responsibility and all he could do was help point the way. Well, clearly, this would not be financially good for churches. So, it was changed to say people were powerless (they are not) and only Priests could "talk to God" (for a price). That way the Priestcraft got a guaranteed income and a life of luxury while quietly raping people's kids.

Today, there is sort of a power sharing agreement. If you can't be scared into submission by the Priests and their black magic tricks, then the government moves in with its militarized police to crush you into submission.

Reality Creation

Governments, Religions, Cults and similar organizations create reality within their space. From the inside, all these realities appear to be true and legitimate. However, when viewed from the outside, it is obvious that they are simply mental constructs and one construct has no more or less legitimacy than the next. This truth, incidentally, is that this is one of the final obstacles a Soul must overcome on its journey to legitimate Spirituality. The mind and its creations are just tools to provide experiences for the young Soul. None of this is actually real. You cannot take your mind with you when you cross the final gate to the true Spiritual worlds. It remains behind in its own domain.

There is No Real Conflict Between Major Nations

For starts, Russia and the United States are essentially married. They have little squabbles from time to time which we know as "cold wars". The revolution which resulted in the old Soviet Union was financed by the United States and some other countries and was micro managed from Wall Street [12]. Additionally, Russia and the US can never get divorced because together they are the main architects of the secret space program and are involved in establishing colonies on other worlds. This, incidentally, is why so little attention is being directed towards improving conditions on Earth. Earth has become obsolete.

All the other nations generally cooperate at their directorate levels. Most have leaders who are puppets installed by the US. Others cooperate voluntarily.

Did you ever wonder why the US has about one thousand military bases in other "sovereign" countries. This is the US command structure:

Africa is not a part of the US. Why is there a "Africa Command". The US has no right to "command"

Africa or any other sovereign country for that matter. Anyway, the US bases are there as a subtle reminder to these "sovereign" countries that they are really satellites of the US and if they ever decide they are not the troops are armed and ready to move out into the country and make sure they "get the message".

"Teach People Theories We Know To Be False"

Please refer to our book "NWO Progress Notes"

INSTRUCTION 24: "Fool, bemuse and corrupt the younger members of society by teaching them theories and principles we know to be false"

So, what do most people believe that is false.

1. Evolution: It sounds nice and scientific but is not possible according to other scientists who study statistics and probability. Accepting the proposed age of the universe, there is not enough time for even the simplest viable DNA molecule to come into existence through random chance. It is simply too complex [13].

2. You can't go faster than light so you can never go very far from Earth. This is the modern equivalent of "the Earth is flat so don't go too far or you will fall off". Al Bielek [20] (see his you tube videos) once asked one of the alien visitors how long - in our time reference - did it take to get here. Their home planet was about 65 light years away. They said about 45 minutes.

3. Electricity must be generated using a great amount of energy like fossil fuels. No, electricity is free. The rotation of the Earth with its liquid core of nickel - iron creates an electric potential in the form of standing waves between the planet and the ionosphere which can be tapped to provide free energy. First discovered by Nicola Tesla and kept secret ever since. The natural frequency is 400 Hz.

This, of course, is but a small sample.

Unseen Control Through Secret Technologies

According to Al Bielek, about 85% of the population of Earth is under mind control to some extent. AI (Artificial Intelligence) is old news. It existed in 1983 at the Montauk Project. Computer hard drives are antiques. Since at least the 1980's, the government has used lasers to write and read data on sugar cube sized crystals at the molecular level. That is why they can now store all intercepted signals forever.

Quantum computers are also old news. Their alien friends had them so you know they do too.

People are manipulated by many secret technologies. There are psychotronic weapons, brain disrupter signals from cell phones and cell towers as well as satellites. There are "food additives" and poison (fluoride) added to the water supply to degrade Spiritual evolution. Even popular music is encoded for mind control [14].

HUMAN RESOURCES

Did you ever consider what the phrase "human resource" really means. What is a "resource". A resource is something you consume. Water is a resource. We consume water. Food is a resource. We consume food. So, if you, as a human being, are considered to be a "resource", what does that imply. It implies that someone or something (like a corporation) intends to consume you. That fate really does not sound too attractive.

The single mom who died in her car because she had to work three jobs to survive [8] illustrates your possible fate as a "human resource". Chewed up - spit out - dead. That's what society has planned for you. Is that the life you want. The so called "American Dream" is just that - a dream. It doesn't exist. If you believe it does, then you are a fool.

None of the billionaires in this world got their wealth from doing honest work. Either they inherited their money or they obtained it by some fraudulent activity. It is impossible to accumulate such wealth by honest means.

HUMAN SURFACE POPULATION IN A PERPETUAL HOLDING PATTERN

In 1908, Henry Ford started making the model T car. It used an internal combustion engine. One hundred and eight years have passed and we still use cars with internal combustion engines. Does it seem a bit strange to you that there have been no significant major changes in 108 years. Certainly someone must have thought of something better by now. If they did, we were not told.

You might conclude that there is some active force which is anti change. But, that would mean some type of conspiracy and such thoughts are not politically correct.

East Germany is an example of a country which existed and functioned but never really accomplished much. When it was dissolved, ordinary people were able to get into the Stasi secret police archives and learned that about half of the people were employed by the government and that their job was to spy on the other half. So husbands were hired to spy on their wives - wives on husbands - employers on employees - employees on employees. Also, spies spied on other spies to make sure they were spying correctly. The only reasonable explanation for setting up a society like this appears to be some type of psychological experiment.

Now, getting closer to home, consider congress. They make laws - sometimes - when they actually work. This is usually on Wednesday. You see, lobbyists, dripping with money, invite them to parties - generally in some other country where sex with underage girls and boys is permitted. So, you need Thursday to get ready for the weekend. You need Friday to travel. You party on Saturday and Sunday. Monday is taken up getting home and starting to recover from all the sex, alcohol and drugs (they love high grade cocaine). Tuesday is taken up recovering and getting ready to present yourself as a "model citizen". No reason to actually write laws because interest groups do that for you and then pay you to pass them. And, since many laws are thousands of pages long, obviously you can't be expected to actually read them. That sounds almost inhuman.

The construct of using two parties (and only two) which constantly oppose each other creates an ideal model so that the people believe their representatives are helping them even though nothing actually happens. You can make all sorts of great promises and then - when they do not materialize - simply say, "I did my best but those mean guys in the other party stopped me". That way, everyone can make it look like they are doing whatever you elected them to do and still accomplish nothing at all.

Also, you should know that essentially all members of congress are friends. They faithfully act out their assigned parts in public but it is a different world when they meet in private. John Kerry is a democrat. George Bush is a republican. They are also cousins and they are also both members of the secret cult known as Skull and Bones. Do you really think that there are any meaningful philosophical differences between the two. Wake up!

Now, let's look at some subtle constraints on you which keep you stagnant, dummed down and controlled. You can't talk freely. If you work, you probably had to sign some type of secrecy agreement and so gave up your right to free speech. Even if you did not, saying anything bad about your employer or work conditions will likely get you fired. You have to be careful what you say or do around your kids because they may denounce you to the state. The latest government scam is called "co-parenting". The government claims it has equal authority with parents relating to raising their children. This means government agents can come to your home at any time - no warrant needed - search your home - interview your kids without you being present AND anything they may learn can be used to throw you in prison and take your kids away. This would include things like any negative views you have expressed towards the government.

Beyond that, high school teachers are to turn in reports about your kids to the FBI [15]. They are particularly interested in kids with "terrorist thoughts" such as discussing the US Constitution or claiming they have "constitutional rights".

Essentially, you live in an "open air prison". And, it is about to get smaller. The first phase will be "The Great Culling" which will kill at least 90% of the people on Earth. The next phase will be full implementation of the instructions on the Georgia Guidestone. If you have never heard of it, you might want to do a search and read it because it is your future.

Now, briefly, let's try to explain why things are this way: Suppose you are reasonably happy but then some billionaire shows up and offers you a better life or you win the lottery or whatever. Suddenly, everything you have and have known becomes meaningless. This is essentially what happened to Earth when contact was made with aliens over one hundred years ago. Until then, you had some importance. Now, because the decision was taken not to tell you, you are obsolete. Beyond obsolete, because of all the progress that has been made in secret, you are essentially insects in the eyes of the elite who have been privy to this all along.

THE OTHER WORLD

Up to now, we have been discussing the world you live in. However, there is another world about which you know little or nothing. Although you will never see this world, you do, at the very least, have the right to know that it does exist.

The world controllers main function is to quietly and secretly alter the natural evolutionary pattern of a group of generally innocent and unsuspecting people and subtly redirect them to develop in a manner that they would have not voluntarily chosen by the use of various covert techniques which fall into the general category of "technology assisted black magic". The world we will now explore consists of people who were privy to secret knowledge and chose to do certain things but are concerned about the reaction others may have to their activities and so hide beneath a cloak of secrecy.

We will begin with the part of the other world which is closest to home. Actually, it exists beneath your feet. This is the secret underground world of the elite. It covers the entire planet. Huge cities and installations exist underground, all connected by tunnels using high speed "mag lift" trains. Here, the elite can live in total comfort with every possible amenity and also travel anywhere without ever being seen on the planet's surface. When this world actually "pierces the surface", it is generally in the form of an ordinary looking office building with an address but no name. However, this building extends below the surface for perhaps one hundred stories or more and includes an underground parking lot covering many acres. Strangely, no one seems to take notice.

There are definite advantages to this. You are always in the company of "insiders" because ordinary "surface dwellers" not only can't get in but do not even know your secret world exists. You stay quite healthy because you breathe "manufactured air" as opposed to the polluted and deliberately poisoned air on the surface. Manufactured air is created from liquefied gasses mixed in perfect proportions. You eat pure natural food from a secret supply chain which is checked and certified to be non GMO and free of pesticides. And, of course, you have perfect health courtesy of top secret medicine as well as the option to choose to continue to live in a physical body for as long as you desire.

Perfect climate is also guaranteed and the miles of ground between you and the surface protect you from such things as the psychotronic weapons which use satellites and surface transmitters to disrupt the brain waves of the surface slaves to help keep them dummed down, apathetic and complacent. Radio waves do not penetrate far into the ground.

Your neighbors consist of scientists and intellectuals from many other countries who live and work in harmony. The surface people believe these countries hate each other and are always on the brink of war. Of course, this is all propaganda. A tiny bit of common sense should allow you to realize that the friendly comradeship between Russian Cosmonauts and American Astronauts seen daily in broadcasts from the International Space Station is simply incompatible with the US state propaganda line that Russia is somehow a "great threat". Additionally, there will be beings from other worlds. Actually, this article sums up the real truth: "leave all the problems on Earth and work together in space" [16].

Obviously, it took time and considerable money to construct this world over the last hundred years or so. However, you understand the truth which is that what the surface people consider to be money is actually imagined into existence. Way back in the year 1694 - long before the US even existed - the international banker William Paterson stated, "The bank has benefit of interest on all moneys which it creates out of nothing" [1] [17]. So, the suckers on the surface who were duped into doing all the "grunt" work so you could live in luxury lived and died in a quest for something which had no real substance and never actually existed. You don't use money here. Everything you need is simply provided.

Moving further away, you next encounter the "off world" activities. Colonies on the moon and mars came first. Then, deep space travel was developed leading to colonies in other solar systems. Later, parallel physical universes - known as "tesseract" - were discovered. Revolutionary communications technologies described by Al Bielek as "C8" (meaning transmitting signals at the speed of light raised to the eighth power) allowed essentially instant communications across the galaxy and beyond. New relationships with alien races allowed for greatly accelerated progress. In addition to bases on other worlds, time travel technologies led to the establishment of secret military bases on Earth but in different time periods and more advanced signal technologies allowed real time communications with these time displaced installations.

The elite are all kept "on the same page" via the top secret TV network. The TV available to the surface slaves is actually dangerous because it is all propaganda, transmits signals to alter brain waves and fills people with fear, hate and uncertainty among other things. Top secret TV transmits accurate news, state of the art science, live broadcasts from off world colonies as well as live transmissions from installations based in the future.

You should realize that this is not the first time that people on Earth have done such things. Essentially the same technologies were developed in previous epochs. Where are these people now? They destroyed themselves because they never learned the Spiritual and mental discipline necessary to properly and responsibly use the powers they had discovered. It is quite likely that they will make the same mistake again. History tends to repeat.
